The Shell Ocean Discovery XPRIZE Dr Victor Abbott

The Shell Ocean Discovery XPRIZE has a $7M prize fund which was designed to push the boundaries of ocean technologies by creating solutions that advance the autonomy, scale, speed, depths and resolution of ocean exploration. Solutions include mother ships, autonomous underwater vehicles, delivery drones, and vertical profilers which will hop from location to location. The competing teams come from six countries including the UK

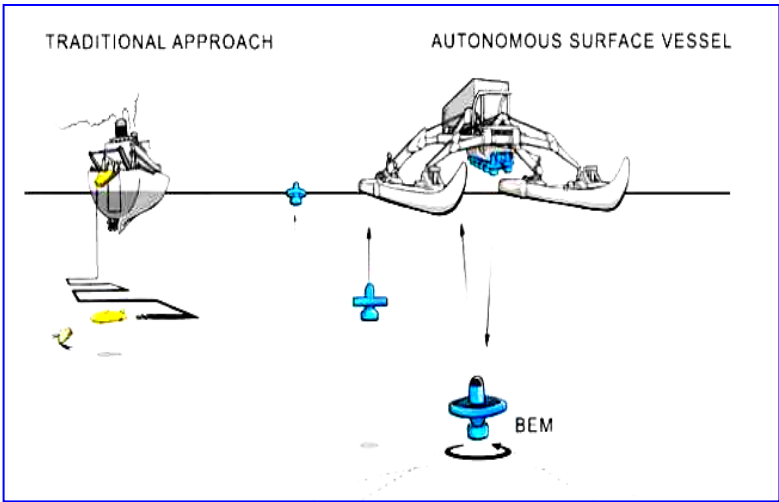

The evening talk will address:

The present state of world charting.

The significant players in the continued search for an understanding of our planet,

The search for the lost Malaysian aeroplane, MH370.

The Ocean Discovery competition, competitors and technologies.

The talk is open to all interested in the subject and is free.
